Dear Community Member,

The County of Los Angeles is pleased to offer you the annual publication of the Rowland Heights CONNECTION - an information newsletter prepared especially for the members of the Rowland Heights community.

We have included information on local and regional County services and other valuable community resources. The newsletter has been expanded to include an emergency preparedness checklist. You are encouraged to take some time to review and complete this Checklist. Also, an "At-A-Glance Directory" is included that provides a list of telephone numbers to various County departments to request services or report problems in your community.

We hope you will continue to enjoy the newsletter and encourage you to complete the "Tell Us What You Think" survey available on the web at <https://lacws.co.la.ca.us/cao/rowlandheights.htm> or you may e-mail us with your comments at uas_sp@cao.co.la.ca.us.

Thank you

Rowland Heights Community Coordinating Council

The Rowland Heights Community Coordinating Council (RHCCC) is a voluntary, non-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality of life in the Rowland Heights area. The RHCCC, based on input received from residents, provides a forum for voicing concerns to County officials and County staff.

The RHCCC holds its general meetings on the second Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at Pathfinder Park located at 18150 East Pathfinder Road, Rowland Heights. The meetings are open to the public. Visit the RHCCC Website at www.rhccc.netfirms.com for more information.

Living in Rowland Heights

The Rowland Heights community is located within unincorporated Los Angeles County. This means that as a resident of Rowland Heights, you do not live in a city such as Diamond Bar or La Habra Heights. Instead, your community is one of many in which the County is responsible for providing all municipal services such as law enforcement, fire suppression, library, animal control, road maintenance, and park and recreation activities. The County, governed by a five-member Board of Supervisors, is your "city council" and is responsible for making policies that affect unincorporated areas, including Rowland Heights.

The County is divided into five Supervisorial Districts, each of which is represented by a Supervisor. Most of Rowland Heights is located in the Fourth Supervisorial District. A portion of Rowland Heights, generally located north of Colima Road and west of Nogales Street, is located in the First Supervisorial District. As such, the community of Rowland Heights is represented by the First and Fourth Supervisorial Districts. To find out the District you reside in, you may contact the County Registrar Recorder at (323) 586-6192 or visit the County's Website at www.lacounty.info and click on the "Find Your Districts" link.

Safe Communities Festival

Each year in early spring, the Safe Communities Festival is held to celebrate the collaboration of community members and other agencies in working towards a safe and clean community. Participants include community based organizations, Rowland Unified School District, CHP, Sheriff, Fire, and the Parks and Recreation Department. For more information on this event, call the Park at (626) 912-6774.

PASSIVE RECREATIONAL AREAS

In addition to the local and regional park activities, the Department of Parks and Recreation also maintains two passive recreation areas in Rowland Heights. Identity Theft: Beating Your Unknown Evil Twin!

DEPARTMENT OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS

500 West Temple Street, Room B-96 • Los Angeles, CA 90012 • (800) 593-8222 • lacountydca.info

Your identity is stolen when someone uses your name, social security number, or other personal information to get credit cards or loans. Identity thieves can also get a fake identification in your name and use it to get a job or commit a crime.

Protecting Yourself: Look after your personal and financial information:

- Review your bank and credit card statements each month. Shred the statements before you throw them away.
- Carry only the credit and identification cards you need. Make copies of the cards and keep them in a safe place. If your wallet is lost or stolen, you'll have the account and telephone numbers you'll need to report lost or stolen cards.
- Do not respond to e-mail messages (phishing) or telephone calls asking for personal and financial information.
- Review your credit report at least once a year. You can get a free copy every 12 months from each of the main credit-reporting companies: Equifax: (800) 685-1111, Equifax.com; Experian: (888) 397-3742, Experian.com; TransUnion: (800) 916-8800, TransUnion.com. You can also get a free copy once a year online at www.annualcreditreport.com, or by telephone at (877) 322-8228.

Warning Signs That Your Identity Was Stolen:

- You get bills for accounts you never opened
- You receive letters from collection agencies
- You are denied credit for no apparent reason
- Your credit card statement has charges you did not make, or your bank account is missing money.

Do The Following If Your Identity Is Stolen:

1. Contact the three major credit reporting companies listed above, and ask them to place a "fraud alert" on your report.
2. Close the accounts you know have been tampered with. Talk with someone in the security or fraud department of each company. Follow up with a certified letter. You can also send them an "ID Theft Affidavit," available on the Website.
3. File an "Identity Theft Police Report" at your local police station and keep a copy.
4. Get a copy of your credit report. You are entitled to free copies if your identity is stolen. Ask the credit reporting companies to remove accounts that are not yours and correct wrong information.
5. Write a letter or send the "ID Theft Affidavit" to companies or collection agencies that reported accounts or charges to your credit report that are not yours. Ask them to close the accounts and remove the information from your credit report.
6. Keep a record of your calls and letters.

Get Help: Department of Consumer Affairs can provide counseling, investigate your complaint, help you dispute accounts and charges you did not make, and remove wrong information from your credit report.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

Building and Safety

16005 East Central Avenue • La Puente, CA • (626) 961-9611 • <http://www.lapdw.org>

If you are planning a home improvement project such as a room addition, kitchen remodeling, or roof replacement, you should contact the La Puente Building and Safety Division of the Los Angeles County Department of Public Works (DPW). DPW will assist you with questions on any home or business project so check with the local Building and Safety Division before you begin any home improvement or remodeling project. The La Puente office is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

By law, most construction and installations require a building permit. The law is not intended to be a regulatory obstacle, but rather is in place for the safety and protection of homeowners, business owners, and their investments.

Household Hazardous and Electronic Wastes

The Department of Public Works conducts weekly Household Hazardous/Electronic Waste Collection Events which provide a safe way for residents to dispose of unwanted hazardous materials and electronic wastes for FREE. Household hazardous waste includes such items as: used motor oil, paint, turpentine, cleaners that contain acids or lye, aerosol products such as hairspray and air fresheners, household and car batteries, pesticides, and garden herbicides. Electronic waste includes such items as: VCRs, stereos, fax machines, computer keyboards, and cellular telephones. Each year, DPW sponsors a waste collection event in Rowland Heights. Visit www.888CleanLA.com or call (888) CLEAN LA for more information.

DEPARTMENT OF REGIONAL PLANNING

320 West Temple Street, Room 1355 • Los Angeles, CA 90012 • General Office: (213) 974-6453

Zoning Enforcement

The County of Los Angeles has a Zoning Ordinance that prohibits the following activities in Rowland Heights

- Garage conversions
- Inoperable vehicle storage
- Automobile repair performed outside an enclosed structure and in residential areas
- Storage of vehicles in front yards
- Unpermitted construction
- Commercial vehicle storage in residential areas
- Commercial uses in residential zones
- Temporary signage such as banners and portable signs
- Merchandise displayed and sold outside of an enclosed building
- Storage of junk and salvage

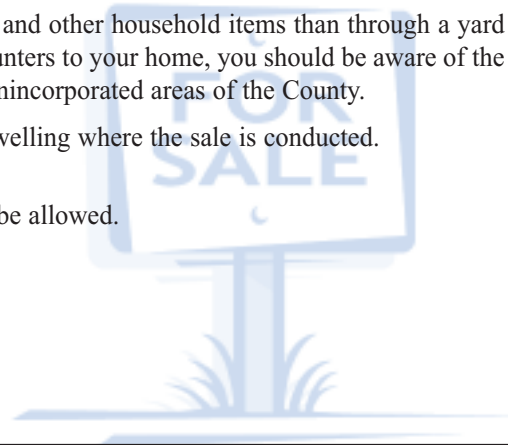

The Department of Regional Planning enforces the Zoning Ordinance and cites violations of those described above. If you feel someone in your neighborhood is using their property contrary to the Zoning Ordinance, please call 2-1-1.

Yard or Garage Sale Ordinance - Things You Should Know

What better way to get rid of some of your unwanted old clothing, children's toys, and other household items than through a yard or garage sale? However, before you put that sign up and invite all the bargain hunters to your home, you should be aware of the following standards for conducting a yard or garage sale or other similar event in the unincorporated areas of the County.

- Items sold are limited to the personal property of the resident or residents of the dwelling where the sale is conducted.
- No items acquired for resale will be allowed to be sold.
- One sign, on-site and no larger than four (4) square feet, advertising the sale shall be allowed.
- The sign may be double sided and facing in both directions.
- Only two personal property sales will be allowed yearly.
- Each sale is not to exceed three consecutive days.
- Each sale is allowed anytime except between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.

Violations of these standards can be reported by calling 2-1-1.

Department of Health Services - Public Health ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

FOOD VENDING ON STREETS

It is illegal to sell food on public streets or sidewalks without a license. If you buy food from someone selling food out of a car or shopping cart, you may be at risk of food poisoning. Protect yourself and your family from food poisoning by not buying food sold by street vendors. To file a complaint or to request information, please call (626) 430-5500.

USED OIL AND USED OIL FILTERS

Please follow these simple steps to recycle your used motor oil:

1. Store your used motor oil in a sealed, leak proof container.
2. Do not mix oil with gasoline, other liquids or debris. These combinations make it hazardous and not recyclable.
3. Take the used motor oil to one of the State's certified used oil collection centers during regular business hours. Other automotive fluids and used oil filters can be disposed of Free at a Household Hazardous Waste collection event. For a location near you call (888)CLEAN LA or visit www.888CleanLA.com.
4. Recycle no more than five gallons of oil at a time.

Do You Know?

It is important to dispose of pet waste properly, not only to benefit your personal health but to protect the environment.

- Pet waste contains bacteria and parasites, as well as organic matter that contaminate the ocean through run-off.
- Some of the diseases that can spread from pet waste are:
 - Campylobacteriosis - A bacterial infection that causes diarrhea in humans.
 - Salmonellosis - Animals contribute the most common bacterial infection to humans.
 - Toxocarisis - Roundworms transmitted from animals to humans.
- The proper way to dispose of pet waste is to place it in your outdoor trash container.
- Storm drains do not connect to treatment facilities, but drain directly into the ocean, therefore, animal waste can become a significant source of runoff pollution.
- Dog waste may contain bacteria, parasites, or viruses that are a health risk to people, especially children.

Prevent Fire On Your Property

The Fire Department's annual brush clearance inspection program begins May 1, 2006. The Fire Department will work with homeowners to ensure that fire hazards are reduced on their property. Clearance of native vegetation and properly maintained ornamental vegetation is the first line of defense against wildfire. It is the property owner's legal responsibility to maintain their property in a fire safe condition. The following tips will assist you in reducing the chances of a fire spreading in a wind-driven firestorm.

BRUSH CLEARANCE

- Remove all flammable vegetation or other combustible growth within 30 feet of any structure or within 50 feet of any structure in areas determined to be high hazard. Single trees, ornamental shrubbery or cultivated ground covers may be permitted provided they are maintained so they do not readily transmit fire from native vegetation to the structure.
- The use and maintenance of ornamental plants known or thought to be high hazard plants in close proximity to structures are Acacia, Cedar, Cypress, Eucalyptus, Juniper, Pine, and Pampas Grass. Such plantings should be properly maintained and not allowed to be in mass plantings that they could transmit fire to any structure. Choose landscaping plants that are fire resistive.
- Space trees and shrubs a minimum of 15 feet or three times their diameter from other shrubs. Trees should be spaced to allow a minimum of 30 feet between canopies at maturity. For trees taller than 18 feet, prune lower branches within 6 feet of the ground. For trees and shrubs of less than 18 feet, prune lower branches to one-third of their height.
- Maintain all plants by regularly removing dead branches and leaves.

YARD

- Stack wood at least 30 feet from structures; remove flammable vegetation within 10 feet of the woodpile. Remove all stacks of construction materials, pine needles, leaves and debris.
- Locate fixed butane/propane tanks at least 10 feet from any structure and provide 10 feet of clearance.

ROOF

- Remove overhanging branches from your roof and clean all dead leaves from roof and rain gutters. Cover your chimney outlet with a spark arrestor consisting of a metal or non-flammable screen of 1/2 inch or smaller mesh.

ADDITIONAL FIRE SAFETY TIPS

- If you see smoke or fire in your area, stay calm, and immediately dial 9-1-1.
- Remember to take note of the location so that you can provide this information to the dispatcher.
- Post your address on the front of your house. If your house is not visible from the street, post your address on a sign next to the vehicle entrance. Identify at least two exit routes from your neighborhood.

For additional information on fire safety or the Los Angeles County Fire Department visit www.lacofd.org.

RED IMPORTED FIRE ANT ERADICATION PROGRAM

Ant Problems? If you have fierce, multi-sized, stinging ants erupting from mounds in your yard or neighborhood, the Red Imported Fire Ant (RIFA), may have invaded your yard.

The Department of Agricultural Commissioner/Weights and Measures is committed to the protection of its citizens from this public health, environmental, and pest infestation. We don't want this invasive insect to make itself welcome in Los Angeles County. The most difficult task is finding the ant colonies.

If you observe ants foraging on your property that seem to be different from ants you have seen in the past, please contact the County Agricultural Commissioner. Some of the unusual characteristics of RIFA are large dirt mounds in the middle of open sunny lawns, multi-sized ants of two tones (red and reddish-black), and a literal "eruption" of the colony population from a mound at the slightest disturbance.

The California Department of Food and Agriculture has a toll-free hotline available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to provide current information. Call at (888) 4FIREANT (1-888-434-7326) or visit the website at www.fireant.ca.gov.

For more information, you can also visit the County's website at <http://acwm.co.la.ca.us>, or contact the County's RIFA Program at (626) 575-4251.
